This is a simple frame house of the Federal period. It is now in a ruinous state and is used to store hay and tools. The house contains a very finely carved and panelled dog-leg staircase. The staircase has scrolled step-ends and a panelled wall. There are two very well-carved Federal mantels in the downstairs rooms and molded chair rails. The house is four bays long and one room deep with an enclosed chimney on each end. All of the windows are replaced 2/2 late 19th century sashes. This house contains some very fine carved woodwork and deserves better than its present treatment. Mr. Clemens expects to have the house removed or demolished soon -  mms - 4/70 Condition: Deserted - used as a barn
